

THE ENGLISH CREED

Suggested as a compromise on the Presbyterian Discussion.

LAYMAN AND CLERGYMAN TALK.

They Have Opposite Opinions on the Question of Revision.

THE POINTS OF THE PROPOSITION

James A. Fetzer, of Sharon, this county, has presented to the session regarding the revision of the Presbyterian Confession of Faith and wishes to offer as a compromise the "Articles of the Faith" as adopted by the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of England, final form. Mr. Fetzer says he is not a religious authority, but he says he thinks it unfortunate that there should be so much division in the bodies that reverence the great theological doctors of Geneva, Zurich, Strasburg and Edinburgh.

He even thinks there might be stimulation in a short time enough of brotherly toleration to allow the fusing of these bodies with the prelatial establishment of Great Britain, as he thinks their differences of opinion consist more in the latitude of terms than in actual disagreements in matters of faith. Mr. Fetzer agrees with Macaulay that the doctrinal confessions and discourses of the Anglican church set forth principles of theology in which Calvin or Knox would have found scarcely a word to disapprove.

A Difference of Opinion. But some people think Mr. Fetzer has undertaken a difficult task, and one requiring considerable faith to support it to a successful conclusion. Rev. Charles Buck said: "The appellation Presbyterian, in England, is appropriated to a body of dissenters who have not any attachment to the Scotch mode of church government any more than to Episcopacy among us; and therefore, the term Presbyterian is here improperly applied. How this misapplication came to pass cannot be easily determined. English Presbyterians, as they are called, and the Scotch, are both churches of government with the Independents. Their chief difference from the Independents is that they are less attached to Calvinism."

Article XII, on Election and Regeneration, of the English Presbyterian Church reads: "We humbly own and believe that God, the Father, before the foundation of the world, was pleased of His sovereign grace to choose unto Himself in Christ a people whom He gave to the Son and to whom the Holy Spirit imparts spiritual life by a secret and wonderful operation of His power, using as His ordinary means, where years of unbelief have been reached, the truths of His Word in ways agreeable to the nature of man; so that, being born from above, they are the children of God, created in Christ Jesus unto good works."

Little Difference in Doctrine. This and the 16th article, which treats of sanctification and perseverance, seem in letter and spirit to be in accordance with the fourth and fifth points of Calvinism, that though Rev. Charles Buck saw a distinction, laymen might be pardoned if unable to see a substantial difference in doctrine between English and Scotch Presbyterians, and Mr. Fetzer, who is descended from a long line of Covenanting ancestry, seems to think that the English Presbyterian form of expression may be found to have the power of cohesion, and as there is talk at present of the United Presbyterians letting down the bars to admit members of the G. A. R. and the J. O. U. A. M., he thinks it a good time to push his propaganda.

A meeting of the Pittsburgh Presbytery had been announced to be held in the First Church on Wood street yesterday, but it failed to convene, as there was no business of any importance to be transacted.

SUSTAINING THE MCKINLEY BILL

Justice Budgett Knocks Out Chicago Importers in Short Order.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Judge Budgett consumed half a minute this afternoon in giving a legal black eye to the importers who attacked the constitutionality of the McKinley administrative act of 1890. The court listened for four hours to weighty legal arguments of the attorneys for the importers and then peremptorily overruled their motion.

The court said he was very clear in his own mind that it was within the province of Congress to prescribe the terms under which goods may be imported, and that Congress had plenary power over the subject of taxation. It also had power to declare what the functions of the Board of Appraisers should be and what power they should possess. The case will go to the Supreme Court of the United States.

A Pleasant Time at Hotel Eiffel.

A pleasant wedding ceremony was that of Miss Sarah Smith, daughter of Joseph Smith, of 22 Vickroy street, and Victor Emil Hebert, of the Hotel Eiffel, last night at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Mackay, of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. After the ceremony the wedding party, some 50 in number, drove down to Hotel Eiffel and partook of an elegant wedding supper. After supper General P. N. Guthrie was made toastmaster and in a neat speech he complimented the bride, the bridegroom and the pretty little flower girl, Miss Carrie Holmes. He was followed by Colonel W. H. Reed in a toast to the bride and groom. Master Arthur then sang the appropriate solo, "I'd Nothing Else to Do." He was followed by his brother in another pleasing solo. With numerous other songs and speeches this happy event was brought to a close.

Skipped in the Wrong Direction.

CHICAGO, March 1.—New York firms today caused the arrest here of Lewis Mendelson, of the insolvent New York cloak making firm of Hartman & Mendelson. It is charged that the firm by false representations secured credit from complainants and others to the amount of $60,000; that Hartman & Mendelson came to Chicago last Saturday.

March Gras in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—At noon today His Gracious Majesty Rex appeared in his twelfth annual parade before his royal subjects. The throng, illustrated, "The Symbolism of Colors," afforded every opportunity for a superb display of magnificent tableaux. The procession consisted of 15 tableaux on cars, with the usual attendants.

HOW TO DO IT.

How We Make Our Months Easy, Busy—P. C. C. C. Clothiers. Have you heard of our $7.25 men's suits? That's the secret of busy times at our store. The fact of selling men's fine suits worth $15 and $18 for $7.25 draws the crowds. Prominent business men, nobly dressed, lawyers, doctors, mechanics and salesmen have bought $7.25 suits. Each and every man got double value for his money. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are the last three days of this sale. Your last chance to make a selection from an elegant line of suits for $7.25. Take your choice during these three days from checks, plaids, pin-checks, narrow and wide wales, mixtures, fancy cross bars, plain black cords and herring bone patterns at $7.25. The above suits are made in sack and cutaway style and plain or bound. Earliest comers get the best patterns. Last three days of the sale. P. C. C. C. Clothiers, corner Grant and Diamond streets.

ALLEGHENY'S SCHOOLS.

The New Board Organizes for the Opening Term—A Few Teachers Elected—The Reports of the Superintendent and Librarian.

The regular meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers was held last night. It was the first meeting of the new members elected at the last election and the board reorganized, electing officers for the ensuing year. One of the principal changes, though resulting from the election, is the retirement from the board of Mr. James S. Young, who has been its President for several years past. Mr. Young, who was elected from the Second ward, still had a year to serve on the board, but as he is removing to the East End, Pittsburgh, was not a candidate for re-election as chairman and will resign from the board. The vacancy will be filled by the remaining members of the local board. He is succeeded as President of the Board of School Controllers by Charles McMillen, Esq.

A temporary organization was effected last night by the election of Dr. Langgitt as temporary chairman, and R. B. Scandrett as temporary secretary. Nominations for officers for the ensuing year were made and Lewis McMillen and Philip Pieter were nominated for president and Richard B. Scandrett for secretary. When the vote was being taken and before the call was half through, Mr. Pieter withdrew and moved Mr. McMillen's election be made unanimous. His motion was adopted. Mr. Scandrett was also unanimously re-elected secretary. On motion of Dr. Langgitt, the following were elected Chairman of the Library Committee.

The next teachers elected were—Fourth ward, Miss Anna Krebs, vice Miss McElroy, resigned; Eleventh ward, Miss Emma J. Ruffner, elected principal of school No. 3; vice Mrs. W. C. Matthews, resigned; Mrs. A. M. Petty, elected to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Ruffner's promotion. The report of City Superintendent Morrison for the month of February showed an enrollment of 12,859 pupils, with an average attendance of 11,444. The report of the Librarian for February gave the number of books issued as 4,226; number of books purchased, 60.

Mr. Francis presented a resolution to change the rules so the Printing Committee would be composed of one member from each ward, instead of the chairman of the standing committees, as heretofore. The resolution was defeated.

A Fayette County Representative.

R. P. Kennedy, one of the leading attorneys of the Fayette County Bar, a lover of sports and an enjoyable companion, entertained a number of his friends with his rare sayings at Newell's last night.

DEATHS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

Ex-Governor William W. Holden. Ex-Governor William Holden, of North Carolina, died at Raleigh yesterday, in his 74th year. He began active life at the age of 19 as a printer, and was admitted to the bar in 1843. He became editor and proprietor of the Raleigh Standard, continuing in that capacity for 25 years. As a member of the convention in 1861, he signed the Ordinance of Secession. He was appointed provisional Governor by President Johnson in 1865, and held the office until 1868. He was elected Governor by popular vote. Owing to the "Ku Klux" outrages, he declared Alamance and Caswell counties in a state of insurrection, and his militia moved several times. The trouble became so serious that he was appointed to President Grant's troops. Acting on the advice of the United States Attorney General, he turned over the prisoners in the civil authority, but against his own will. He was impeached by the Legislature and the Senate found him guilty of the eight indictments. He was, consequently, removed from office, after which he removed to Washington and edited the National Dispatch. He afterward returned to Raleigh and became Postmaster.

Deaths Here and Elsewhere.

Denise McEvoy, Esq. The funeral of Denise McEvoy, Esq., will be held this afternoon. He was one of Pittsburgh's pioneers, having taken up his habitation in our city in 1808. He was the father of Patrick McEvoy, who was the mother of Lieutenant General of the navy, Charles F., a prominent lawyer in Cincinnati; John H., a Kingwood merchant; Mrs. Morland and Mrs. Hill, both of Morgantown, and James A., a prominent Kingwood attorney.

Obituary Notes.

MISS L. HILKEY has died, at Vienna, Indiana. The day after her death news was received of her appointment as leading contralto of the Paris Grand Opera.

WILLIAM CLEMENT, one of Ebensburg's most prominent citizens, died there at noon Monday. He was a prominent Mason, Odd Fellow and member of the G. A. R.

MISS SOPHIE H. TURNER, the English pianist, died recently at the age of 46. She was a brilliant though not noted player, and had traveled extensively, especially in Australia.

WALTER JONES, who helped organize the Republican party in Michigan, died Monday night at Lansing, aged 80 years. In 1872 he joined the free love movement and thereafter acted with the Greenbackers.

HON. M. R. HARRISON, Commissioner to the World's Fair from Minnesota, died Monday night at Detroit from Bright's disease, supervised by the grip. He leaves a fortune estimated at $1,000,000. He was born in Petersburg, Va., and the body will be taken there for interment.

WILLIAM H. BRADLEY, the venerable Clerk of the United States Circuit and District Courts for the Northern district of Illinois, and a prominent figure for 40 years in the judicial history of that State, suffered a stroke of apoplexy at Chicago yesterday afternoon and last night expired.

J. F. KIRK, general agent of the Southern Directory Company, was found dead in bed at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday. The immediate cause of his death was a hemorrhage. Mr. Kirk came from Chicago, where he was well connected, and was in charge of city directories for 15 Southern States.

COMAS, the English sleight-of-hand performer and general illusionist, is dead at the age of 41. His right name was James Hartwell, and he had been before the public nearly 20 years. He dropped dead in a Dublin music hall, of apoplexy. Comas was a very skillful and graceful juggler.

The Auction Sale.

Of forfeited pledges at I. E. Isaacs', 419 Smithfield street, will only last seven days, commencing Saturday, March 3, at 10 A. M.

Millions.

Every one, no doubt, has heard of Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts, but, although millions of bottles of them are annually manufactured, there are yet hundreds of housewives who know nothing of their excellence from actual use. These flavorings are without question the finest and purest of their kind manufactured in the world, and they will eventually be used as a luxury from one end of the country to the other. The grocer who encourages the sale and use of such pure and wholesome articles, is doing his duty to his patrons and making his business a success.

Wanted as a Witness.

C. H. Petit, of Chicago, who is wanted as a witness in a Philadelphia land suit, was found at the Seventh Avenue Hotel yesterday. A search was made for him in Europe and America. Mr. Petit said he recently returned from London, and he would go to the Quaker City at once.
